

List of Contributors

Raymond Huel, Professor of History at the University of Lethbridge, is a leading authority on Roman Catholicism in Western Canada. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of Historical Studies.

Roberto Perin, who teaches at Atkinson College, York University, has written widely on both Canadian religious history and on questions of ethnicity in Canadian historiography. His most recent work, Rome in Canada: The Vatican and Canadian Affairs in the Victorian Age, is a study of relations between Canada and the Holy See.

Michael Power, a past president of the Canadian Catholic Historical Association, has done extensive research into the history of the Catholic Church in Ontario.

Michael Cottrell is a member of the faculty of St. Thomas More College, University of Saskatchewan. His scholarly interests lie in the study of Irish immigrants, especially in relation to the politics of Victorian Canada.